INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund seeks long-term capital appreciation.

The Fund will invest at least 80% of net assets in common stocks of health sciences companies.

Management divides the health sciences sector into four main areas: pharmaceuticals, health care companies, product and device providers, and biotechnology firms.

The allocation among these four areas will vary depending on the relative potential the manager sees within each area and the outlook for the overall health sciences sector.

BENEFITS AND RISKS

Rapid advances in the health care, medicine, and life sciences fields offer substantial opportunities for superior long-term capital appreciation.

The Fund is less diversified than other stock funds that invest in a wider range of industries and, therefore, could experience significant volatility.

CUMULATIVE RETURNS

Growth of $10,000

Performance data quoted represents past performance and is not a reliable indicator of future performance. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. To obtain the most recent month-end performance, visit troweprice.com. Consider the investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses carefully before investing. Rowe Price fund shares the portfolio of an existing fund (the original share class of the fund is referred to as the "investor class"). The total return figures for this I Class have been calculated using the performance data of the Investor Class up to the inception date of the I Class (3/23/16) and the actual performance results of the I Class since that date. Because the I Classes are expected to have lower expenses than the Investor Classes, the I Class performance, had it existed over the periods shown, would have been higher. The average annual total return figures reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, if any. The fund(s) may have other share classes available that offer different investment minimums and fees. See the prospectus for details.
